

WIND RIVER HELIX

Software Solutions for the Internet of Things.

The Internet of Things (IoT) is officially here. And with it are not only new challenges, but also untapped value and immense opportunity estimated at $19 trillion. Realize IoT's huge potential with Wind River® Helix, a comprehensive portfolio of software solutions for harnessing intelligence to drive innovation and business transformation. With our offering, developers and device manufacturers can not only create the safe, secure, and reliable intelligent systems that make up IoT, but also move the data generated by these systems—from the secure and managed devices at the edge, through the gateway, across the critical network infrastructure, and up into the cloud. Wind River Helix is everything a business needs to both survive and thrive in this exciting new era of data.
